

Jim Penberthy

Date of birth: 24 April 1952

Managing Director of New Enterprise Management Ltd.

Buckingham; United Kingdom

Education and Qualifications

B.Ed., London University, Education

Part B.A., Open University, Mathematics

FRSA, Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce

Associate Member of the Institute of Management Consultants 1998 – 2000

Activity sectors as a Business Developer and Social Entrepreneur:

Commercial

Consultancy providing start-ups and developed companies with:

corporate disciplines

markets for products and services

funding sources for R&D and investing needs

Internet web portal start-up.

Specialist publishing and printing company.

Business Angel Investor

Market and product re-positioning of a design and tool manufacturer for medical engineering and automotive industries.

Publishing projects for export.

Market driven solutions for the global water industry – spin off from Cranfield University, delivering market next generation technologies from R&D.

Recycling waste to energy, bio-mass technologies.

Voluntary

The development of micro-economic initiatives in South Africa, Romania, and Moldova – teaching on business management and development, fundraising, and strategy implementation.

Evaluation and feasibility studies on business start-ups in developing economies.

Mentoring of young entrepreneurs in business plan construction.