

Dr. Raymund Vorwerk

Curriculum Vitae

Dr. Raymund Vorwerk, 58, lives in Braunschweig, Germany. He studied Mathematics and Economics at the Technical University of Braunschweig, Germany, received 1973 a diploma in mathematics and 1976 a Ph.D in applied mathematics.

In the following years he was teaching assistant at the Technical University Braunschweig, joined 1978 IBM Germany, and held there several consultant and management positions with budget and HR responsibility.

1986 he changed over to GMO, a Hamburg based software & consulting company as managing director.

Raymund Vorwerk founded several companies: 1988 vorwerk consulting, 1991 VC Software Construction GmbH, 1993 VC Software Inc. (USA). He is a pioneer in object-oriented software technology and was involved in several large-scale European IT projects in the Insurance and Banking industry. 2001 he acted as co-founder of VCB & Company LLP, Independent Advisors, London, UK.

As Business Angel, he started 1998 with support for and investment in startup companies, i.e. Virtual Reality Software in Munich, Email Automation in the US, Social Networks in the US. Dr. Vorwerk is active member of BANSON, Business Angel Network Süd-Ost Niedersachsen, with strong ties to BAND and EBAN. He is a personal member of the German Business Angel Panel. coordinator of BANSONFunds, a regional seed fund, and propagator of regional based, Business-Angel-driven incubators.